Busie Pitches Wonderful Ball and the Washingtons Are Shut Out-The Brooklyns Lose Two Games to the Bostons and the Baltimores Bent the Quakern-Chicago Defeats Cleveland and the Pitts. burghs Tie the Latter for First Place-Cincinnati Mas a Suap with St. Louis,

The New Yorks left for Baltimore last night in high spirits. They not only had won their hird straight game from the Washingtons, but they had also mounted into seventh place, passing both the Brooklyns and Philadelphias. They are now thirty points behind the Bostons, forty-nine behind the Baltimores, and sixty-six behind the leaders. The Brooklyns dropped two games in Boston and the Baltimores won easily from the Philadelphias. The Clevelands and Pittsburghs are tied for first place. Tebeau's men were beaten by the Chicagos and the Smoky City team got away with the Louisvilles. The Cincinnatis had an easy time with St. Louis and are only one point behind the Chicagos. The New Yorks have seven hard games to play before they return to the Pologrounds, four in Baltimore and three in Philadelphia, These contests will prove whether Doyle's men are really in the race or not. They have been playing brilliantly and their pitchers are in such fine haps that local enthusiasts are very hopeful.

bever let up. The coaching was good and Burns kept things moving with his well-known war erry.

The Washingtons were whipped from the call of play. But they did some pretty fielding, soyos, McGuire, Abbey, and Crooks led in this beaped, the last named making a number of clean stops and throws. In the last inning the visitors made a bid for at least one run, but Rusie was too much for them. McGuire got his base on balls, and Abbey filed to Tiernan. Selbace's fly dropped safely in right, and a double steal landed the runners on third and second. Then Rusie struck out Coogan, and Hassamer put up a short fly that Van took on a dead run and the battle was over.

The Washingtons went to the plate first and Joyce got a base on balls. McGuire drove a single over second and Abbey sacrificed. Selbach hit sharply to Rusie, who threw to Farrell, and the latter sent the ball to Davis in time to ulp Joyce, who was trying to get back to third. Davis then threw quickly to Stafford, catching McGuire off second, and "Staff" sent the ball back to Davis, so that McGuire was run down. It was a brilliant piece of fielding and created great enthusiam. Then the New Yorks began making runs. Fulier took four balls and Tiernan singled. Both moved up on Van Haitren's pietty sacrifice bunt, and came hustling across the plate on George Davis's hot two-bagger to left. Boyle's high fly dropped safely near the left-field foul line, and Davis took third. Burns drove one to Crooks, who threw Doyle out at second, Bavis scoring. Stafford bunted safely, bus Jovce caught Burns on his way to third, and, after an exciting chase, the ex-Brooklynite was run down, Abbey getting the put-out.

the ex-Brooklynite was run down, Abbey getting the put-out.

The New Yorks did some beautiful hitting in the second inning and scored three carned runs. With Farreli out, Rusie singled and reached second on Shorty Fuller's clever hase hit to centre. Mike Tiernan rapped a double to right and Rusie ran home. Fuller scored on Vau's out, and then George Davis smashed one up against the 25-cent seats for three bases, sending in Mike. Doyle got a base on balls and drew a throw to second, but Davis was nailed off third.

The New Yorks added to their score in the fourth. Rusle opened with his second safe hit, but was forced at second by Fuller. The latter got a life on Sheibeck's wide throw, but he, too, was forced by Thernan. Mike ran to third on Van Haltren skingle, and scored on Sheibeck's mufi of McGuire's throw to catch Van. Davis got his base on halls, and Van Haltren skingle third on Joyce's had muff of McGuire's good throw. Then Davis ran to second, and as McGuire threw low Van came in. Doyle was third out on a fly to Abbey, and the score was 8 to 0.

Two more runs were chalked up for Doyle's men in the fifth. Burns received a base and raced to third on Stafford's cracker to right. The scored on Farrel's out, and Jim came in on Rusle's grounder to Sheibeck. Fuller hit safely and stole second as clean as a whistic, but he was nipped at the plate on Tiernan's scratch hit to Crooks. New York's last run came in the eighth, when Rusle hit to right for three bases and counted on Fuller's long fly to Selbach.

Capt. Henry A. Stone, ex-Inspector of Rifle Practice, N. G. S. N. Y., was seen yesterday with a new fangled contrivance in the line of bicycles. It is the invention of Louis B. White of 143 Elm street, and its peculiarity is that it is propelled by a water wheel or motor.

The pedals, instead of acting on the wheel by a chain and sprocket as in ordinary bikes, are practically pump handles that pump water from a reservoir to the water wheel attached to the hind wheel.

An arrangement of tubes permits the water to be used over and over again, and the reservoir is also used to store reserve energy to assist the rider in climbing hills or accelerating his speed, It is claimed by the inventor that a rider can ascend a hill with no more exertion than is required to propel other machines on a level, and that the speed of this machine will be double the ordinary chain and sprocket appliance.

BAD DAY FOR THE TALENT.

FIVE WELL-BACKED FAVORITES LOSE AT BRIGHTON BEACH.

Connoisseur Runs a Mile and a Quarter in 2:09 and Bents Doggett by the Shortest of Heads-Hamilton Watts Too Long with Hammie and In Beaten Out by Salontea-Annot Lyle, Lady Richmond, Little Matt, and Certainty Win the Other Events. The younger Littlefield's good three-year-old colt Connoisseur, with 115 pounds up, ran a mile and a quarter yesterday at Brighton Beach in the fast time of 2:09. The rattling finish between Connoisseur and Doggett in this race, a welter-weight handicap for all ages, was the feature of a fair day's sport. Only four started. and Connoisseur, on the strength of a very good run for the distance in the Realization and an easy win at the Beach about two weeks ago, went to the post a strong favorite over Doggett, Harry Alonzo, and Warlike. The public counted him a stake horse among selling platers, and in spite of the fact that he was giving all the rest weight, the bulk of the money went in on his chance at 7 to 10. Warlike cut out the running at a merry clip down past the stand and around to the turn for the backstretch. There Littlefield moved up with the favorite, and before he had covered another furlong Warlike was done. Doggett now closed on Connoisseur, and together they made the upper turn on almost even terms. As they swung into the homestretch Littlefield was seen to be riding hard and using his whip, and for the moment Doggett looked all over a win-ner. But the favorite responded gamely to every call, and try as he would the son of The Bard could not shake him off. Both jockeys rode superbly, and both colts ran true as steel, but Connoisseur's finish was just a trifle the stronger, and his nose was in front as the pair crossed the line under a hurricane drive. Considering the time, the weights, and the lose finish, it was one of the best races of the trighton Beach meeting, and one that drew a burst of applause from the 4,000 spectators Doggett, although defeated by the shortest of heads, showed himself a better colt than he was commonly believed to be before the race. The men who backed him at 2 to 1 got an Harry Alonzo ran a second close race for third money, the latter coming strong at the finish after having been ridden hard in the rear from the drop of the flag, and just missing the mark by a short head. They were beaten off ten lengths or more by Doggett and Connoisseur.

Hammie was the even-money favorite for the first race, a dash of a mile for non-winners, and if Hamilton had not waited a little too long in making his ride the chances are that the favorite would have landed in front instead of being beaten a scant head by Salonica, Mendicant was in front when she struck the homestretch, but Salonica quickly nailed her and gained the lead before Hamilton set sail with Hammie. The favorite finished strong and in a few more strides would have won handly, but Penn hustled Salonica along so unceasingly that the daughter of Grinstead held her advantage to the end. A man named Murry hid the winner up to $350, at which price she was bought in by the Santa Anita Stable.

Silver II., a strapping, big, fine-looking Salvaror cold from Marror letter was a finish and read the way and a for cold from Marror letter was a finish a strapping, big, fine-looking Salvaror cold from Marror letter. the end. A man named Murry hid the winner up to $550, at which price she was bought in by the Santa Anita Stable.

Silver II., a strapping, hig, fine-looking Salvator coit from Marcus Daiy's stable, was made the hottest kind of a favorite for the second race. The youngster had never started in the East and had done nothing wonderful in public in Montana, but the tip was out, and with Tarai up the talent backed him at odds on against yankee Doodle, Annot Lyle, and some other very fair two-year-olds. The race was at five furlongs, Annot Lyle, showing in front the moment Starter Rowe dipped his flag, was never headed. Tarai had Silver well placed at the start and trailed the leader into the upper turn. At the three furlongs he called on the favorite and Silver quickly closed on Annot Lyle, but the coit was beaten before they turned for home, and although Tarai rode him with whip and spur the length of the stretch, the filly beat him easily in 1:02. Yankee Doodle, who got off in the race, ran a good race, finishing third.

With fifteen pounds less to carry the three-year-olds in the third race failed to better the time made by the two-year-olds at the same distance, five forlongs. Manyrove appeared to be the best of the big field that faced the starter, and he was heavily backed at 1 to 2. The favorite showed in front in the run up the backstretch, but he stopped in the last furlong, and Lady Richmond took command, winning by a neck in a pretty finish with King Gold, who ran like a race horse in the homestretch.

Little Matt gave the talent another upset in the fifth race, starting at 2 to 1, with Mirage an odds-on favorite, and coming through the bunch at the last furlong pole a clever winner by half a length. Factotum, who made the running for seven furlongs, was the contending horse to the end. The favorite mished a poor fourth.

A flith favorite was bowled over in the last race, Marshall going to the post at even money against Certainty, Fusileer, and Pay or Play, Hamilton got away in the lead with Certainty, a

A WIN FOR THE AILSA.

She Bents Britannia off Cowes-The Steph Cowes, Aug. 8.-Mr. H. Barclay Walker's cutter Allsa to-day varied the monotony that has generally characterized her racing since her return in the spring from the Mediterranean by winning the Cowes Town Prize of £100 from the Prince of Wales's Britannia. Mr. John Gretton, Jr.'s, cutter Hester was also in the race, and, though she got away at the start ahead of the Britannia, it was not long before she was hopelessly beaten. She did not give up, however, but pluckily finished the race. In the race for this prize last year the Britannia beat the American sloop Vigilant by 4 minutes and 18 seconds, including time allowance.

The course was from Cowes, to the westward to and around the Lepe buoy, thence eastward to and around the Warner Lightship and back to the starting line, twice around, a distance of forty-eight miles. The twenty-raters aid not take part in this race, but they had a race of their own, starting from and returning to Southampton. At the time the start was made from bere in the Town Prize race the tide was on the flood, and the wind was light, At 10 o'clock the starting gun was fired, and the contestants, the Britannia, Alisa, and Hester, went over the line at these times:

Allan, 10:00:10; Restor, 10:00:31; Britannia, The boats all carried, in addition to their The boats all carried, in addition to their lower canvas, their largest club topsails. Shortly after the start what little wind there was began to die away, and in the failing breeze the Hester soon overhauled Alisa and passed under her lee going through Cowes Roads.

The Hester was not able to hold her advantage over the Alisa and she dropped back into second place. The Britannia cut down a great deal of the time the others had secured at the start, but was still in the rear.

The Hester continued to lose to the Britannia and it was conceded by everybody that unless something happened to both the leaders she would be very badly beaten. The Lepe buoy, the western turning mark, was rounded as follows:

Alisa, 1:41:50: Britannia, 1:44:50: Hester, 1:51:30.

The boats then made for Cowes. The wind

Alsa, 1:41:59; Britannis, 1:44:59; Hester, 1:51:30.

The boats then made for Cowes, The wind still held faint, and the run to the Warner Light ship on the second round was made slowly. The Hester dropped further and further astern. On the return to the Lepe buy the Britannia cut down the Alisa's lead by thirty-eight seconds, but could not catch her.

They rounded the Lepe at these times:
Alisa, 4:09:10; Britannia, 4:12:12; Hester, 4:42:28.

It was now only a short run to the finish, which the Alisa reached at 4:25:27. The Britannia finished at 4:30:305. Dut the Hester did not finish until 5:03:05. The Alisa won on elapsed time by 3 minutes and 50 seconds.

The twenty-raters Isolde, Luna, Stephanie, and Inyoni raced from Southampton down through Cowes Roads and back to Southampton. Comparatively little interest was taken in this race, everybody watching the performances of the big cutters in their race along the coast of the Isle of Wight. Mr. Howard Gould's twenty-rater Niagara tore some of her copper during yesterday's race, and to-day she was laid up repairing the damage. Consequently she did not start in the race for boats of her class. The yachts passed through the Cowes Roads, led by the Stephanie, with the Inyoni second, Isolde the way around the course and won the race. The Isolde was second.

The new cup challenger may get here in time to see the new cup defender in her trial races off andy Hook, which take place beginning on Aug. 20. Valkyrie III. is now twelve days out from Gourock, Scotland, which place she left on the afternoon of July 27. At 10 o'clock on the morning of July 28 she parted company with her tug off Malin Head, on the north coast of Ireland, and sailed out to sea with a moderate orthwest wind on her journey toward Sandy

The Vigitant on her return home last spring sailed from the Lizard to Sandy Hook, covering distance of 2,994 knots in seventeen days nineteen hours and fifteen minutes, making an average of 168 knots per day. The distance from Malin Head to Sandy Hook

The distance from Mailin Head to Sandy Hook over the course traversed by steamers is 2,770 knots, and from the Lizard to Sandy Hook 2,934 knots. The Vigilant covered sixty knots more than the steamer course, and allowing Valkyrie III. say fifty knots for variation of route, the length of her course would be 2,850 knots from Mailin Head to the Hook, or 144 knots less than the distance covered by the Vigilant.

Valkyrie III., to just equal the time made by the Vigilant, should make the run in seventeen days, which would make her due at Bandy Hook early on the morning of Aug. 14.

After being cleared at Quarantine, Valkyrie III. will proceed to Erie Basin, where she will be docked, have her jury rig removed, ship her spars, and have her bottom cleaned. After being put in racing condition she will go down to the Horseshee, that anchorage ground being most convenient to the race course.

Mr. George Gould sailed from Southampton in his steam yacht Ataianta on Aug. 3, and as that vessel can make the voyage in from fifteen to cighteen days, Vigilant's owner will probably arrive in time to see her compete in the trial races.

SAVULLE, N. Y. Aug. 8.—There was a very interest-ing race between cathoats salled here to-day for a silver cup presented by Junes F. Hoey, the well-known comedian, who has a summer residence here. The course was ten miles to windward and return, and the boats were all sailed by boys. The race was won by the Spark, owned by Arthur Hourne and sailed by Ernst Kahler. The Gold Wing, owned by John lurke, son of Dr. G. R Burke of New York, and sailed by Johnnie Kahler, was second, and the Hot Stuff, owned by Allen Nye and sailed by Eimer Murdock, was third.

STEVENS IN RARE FORM. The Hoboken Tennis Crack Beat Chace at

NORWOOD PARK, N. J., Aug. 8. Stevens was again the central figure in the tennis contests on the Norwood Park Casino courts. The wiry athlete from Hoboken showed yesterday how against the champion, but his work against Malcolm Chace this morning was even more Malcolm Chace this morning was even more remarkable. Wrenn had nothing to do, as it was thought unfair to play off the old set of his postponed match with Stevens right after the Hoboken man's hard fight, and there was no room for it in the afternoon schedule.

The morning match between Stevens and Chace was hot from the start. Stevens and wonderful control of the ball and covered every inch of the court. The afternoon games were tame in comparison, though the Larned-Foote match was not one-sided by any means. Foote mating a game fight up to the last stroke.

Chace was in hitting humor against Parker, whose ground strokes were high and slow, giving Chace a chance for some sulendful smashing. Parker couldn't score a game, though he was within a point of winning several. The scores were:
